Curriculum-Related Expectations

Year 6

2023-24

Using the Baseline GL Assessment data in year 6, pupils are given one of four target grades for each subject they study. These target grades are:

- Working Towards
- Working At
- Exceeding
- Exceptional Standard

and these are measured against our Curriculum-Related Expectations.

Pupils are assessed at termly intervals against Curriculum-Related Expectations. These are challenging content and/or skills descriptors linked to the National Curriculum strands for each subject area and break down each subject area into its key components that are addressed over the year. Using these descriptors allows all of our learning community to understand strengths and areas for development across each area of our curriculum. They are written as 'I can...' statements to allow pupils to understand the steps needed to improve their learning.

Each set of Curriculum-Related Expectations is in this document. Teachers ensure that pupils' understanding of what each strand entails, based on their target grade, is clear through lessons, home learning and feedback.

Art and Design

	Working Towards	Working At	Exceeding	Exceptional
Generating Ideas 1	I am beginning to develop a range of ideas which show curiosity, imagination and originality.	I can independently develop a range of ideas which show curiosity, imagination and originality.	I can independently develop a range of ideas which show curiosity, imagination, originality and meaning.	I can independently develop a range of ideas which show curiosity, imagination, originality and meaning, each decision can be justified.
Generating Ideas 2	I can develop an idea and am beginning to design methodically, keeping the final product in mind.	I can research, plan and develop a range of ideas and approaches, keeping the final product in mind.	I can research, plan and develop a range of ideas and design methodically, recording my thoughts clearly.	I can investigate, research and test ideas and plans using sketchbooks and other appropriate approaches, recording my thoughts clearly, detailing a range of directions for my work.
Making 1	I can develop basic technical skills to create pieces through drawing, painting, printing and ceramics.	I can select and develop technical skills to create products and pieces with precision through, drawing, painting, printing and ceramics, paying attention to the final finish of my work.	I can independently select, refine and apply my technical and craft skills showing a deeper understanding of materials and techniques.	I can independently select, refine and apply my technical and craft skills showing a deeper understanding of materials and techniques, consistently extending my learning beyond the classroom.
Making 2	I can sometimes select and use relevant processes in order to create successful and finished work.	I can independently select and effectively use relevant processes in order to create successful and finished work.	I can experiment, invent and create my own works of art, craft and design with confidence.	I can show an understanding of how to combine media and create different effects to develop ideas using a range of resources and media.
Evaluating 1	I can take the time to reflect upon what I like and dislike about my work in order to improve it.	I can review my work and suggest appropriate improvements during the process and the finished product.	I can adapt and improve my work, taking into account the starting points, intentions and context behind the work while developing my own style.	I can adapt and improve my work according to my views and detail how I might develop it further, while trying a range of styles.
Evaluating 2	I can sometimes use artists' work to improve my own.	I can use artists' work to improve and influence my own.	I can draw upon ideas from other artists when adapting and improving my work.	I can improve my work, taking into account the starting points, intentions and context behind the work, showing an influence of approach and ideas from a combination of artists.
Knowledge and Understanding 1	I can draw on the work, concepts and ideas of other artists to inform my work.	I can draw on and evaluate the work, concepts and ideas of other artists to inform my own work.	I can draw on, describe, interpret and explain in depth the work, concepts and ideas of other artists to inform my own work.	I can compare and contrast and explain how the work, ideas and working practices of other artists inform my work.
Knowledge and Understanding 2	I can show my awareness of the different historical, cultural and social contexts across a range of artists.	I can take into account the influence of the different historical, cultural and social contexts across a range of artists.	I can describe, interpret and explain in depth the work and influence of the different historical, cultural and social contexts across a range of artists.	I can compare, contrast and explain the work, ideas and working practices of significant artists taking account of the influence of the different historical, cultural and social contexts in which they worked.
Knowledge and Understanding 3	I can use key vocabulary when discussing my own work and that of other artists.	I can use key vocabulary when discussing my own work and that of other artists with confidence.	I can use the technical vocabulary and refer to techniques when discussing my own work and that of other artists.	I can use the technical vocabulary and refer to techniques for modifying the qualities of different materials and processes to realise the full extent of my intentions.

Computing

	Working Towards	Working At	Exceeding	Exceptional
Algorithms	I can show an understanding that different solutions exist for the same problem.	I can recognise that different solutions exist for the same problem.	I can design solutions by decomposing a problem and create a sub-solution for each of these parts (decomposition).	I can explain that iteration is the repetition of a process such as a loop.
Programming and Development	I can create programmes that implement algorithms.	I know the difference between and can use 'if and if' 'then and else' statements appropriately.	I can use variable and relational operators within a loop to govern termination.	I know that a procedure can be used to hide the detail with sub solution. (procedural abstraction) I can design, write and debug modular programs using procedures.
Data and Data Representation	I can show an understanding of the difference between data and information.	I can perform more complex searches for information e.g. using Boolean and relational operators.	I can analyse and evaluate data and information and I know that poor quality data leads to unreliable results and inaccurate conclusions.	I can explain that digital computers use binary to represent all data. I know that computers transfer data in binary.
Hardware and Processing	I can show an understanding that computers collect data from various input devices, including sensors and applications software.	I can identify the main functions of the operating system.	I can explain the differences between physical, wireless and mobile networks.	I can explain that there are a range of operating systems and application software for the same hardware and why this is the case.
Communication and Networks	I can understand the importance of communicating safely and respectfully.	I can select, combine and use internet services. I can show responsible use of technologies and online services and I know a range of ways to report concerns.	I can show how to effectively use search engines and I know how search engines are selected, including knowledge that search engines use 'web crawler' programs.	I can demonstrate an understanding of how search engines rank search results.
Information Technology	I can show an awareness of audience when designing and creating digital content.	I can make appropriate judgements about digital content when evaluating and repurposing it for a given audience.	I can explain the potential for information technology to be used for collaboration when computers are networked.	I can use criteria to evaluate the quality of solutions and I can identify improvements – making some refinements to a solution and future solutions.

Food Preparation and Nutrition

	Working towards	Working at	Exceeding	Exceptional
Food Safety and Hygiene	I can show basic understanding of food hygiene and safety and the importance of hand washing.	I can confidently demonstrate a sound understanding of food safety and hygiene.	I can independently demonstrate a very good understanding of food safety and hygiene including key bacterial growth temperatures.	I can show clarity and apply my excellent knowledge of food safety and hygiene including key bacterial growth temperatures in my practical work.
Food Nutrition and Health including Active Lifestyles	I understand that food is needed to provide the body with energy.	I can explain in basic terms what is meant by a healthy diet.	I understand that a healthy diet is made up of a variety of different food and drinks as shown in the Eatwell Guide.	I can identify which food and drink fit into the Eatwell Guide and which nutrients they provide.
	I know that eating fruit and vegetables is a healthy choice and that I should be eating at least 5 portions a day.	I can identify some foods which fit into the Eatwell Guide.	I can identify foods which fit into the Eatwell Guide and make simple recommendations on how to improve diet.	I am aware of some of the health issues linked to poor diet and can make recommendations on how to improve diet.
Food preparation Practical Skills including Food	I can cut food safely with help.	I can use the bridge or claw method to cut food safely.	I can use the bridge or claw method to cut food safely and independently.	I am competent with a range of tools, equipment and cooking techniques and can use these accurately to prepare food safely and independently.
	I can use small pieces of equipment with support.	I can confidently use small pieces of equipment within the food room with little help.	I can confidently and independently use small pieces of equipment within the food room.	I can apply my sound knowledge of use of equipment to support others in practical lessons.
Food Provenance/ Food Choice	I can pick some sensory vocabulary for my product from a list.	I can complete a sensory evaluation with some analysis.	I can independently use sensory vocabulary to describe my product and complete an analysis of my product.	I can apply my extensive knowledge of sensory vocabulary to evaluate my product and analysis findings in a chart format.
	I can define the term seasonality.	I can confidently define the term seasonality and give examples.	I can independently and confidently define the term seasonality giving examples.	I can apply my knowledge of seasonality to modify recipes and justify changes that I make.

Writing 1	I can copy short phrases correctly or write single words from memory. My spelling may be approximate.	I can write simple, short phrases from memory and my spelling may be approximate.	I can write a short paragraph on familiar topics from memory with understandable spelling and some details.	I can write short paragraphs and change phrases to vary my meaning. My spelling is accurate.
Writing 2	I can recognise the gender of nouns. (Masculine and feminine)	I can understand and begin to apply new grammar rules: adjectival agreements and possessive adjectives.	I can understand and apply new grammar rules with accuracy: adjectival agreements and possessive adjectives.	I can understand and apply new grammar rules with accuracy (adjectival agreements and possessive adjectives) in different contexts.
Writing 3	I can recognise singular and plural nouns.	I can understand and begin to apply new grammar rules: use of les , des and mes and plural endings of regular nouns.	I can understand and apply new grammar rules with accuracy: plural endings of regular nouns and exceptions.	I can understand and apply new grammar rules with accuracy (plural endings) in different contexts.
Writing 4	I can write a few short sentences with support, using expressions which I have already learnt.	With the support of my book, I can use different subject pronouns with key verbs in the present tense.	From memory, I can use different pronouns and the correct verb endings of key verbs to write about myself and others in the present tense in familiar topics.	From memory, I can use different pronouns and the correct verb endings of key verbs to write about myself and others in the present tense across different topics.
Writing 5	I can answer oui or non when asked my opinions.	I can express simple opinions.	I can express longer opinions and use connectives.	I can express longer opinions, use connectives and give reasons.
Speaking 1	I can engage in a short conversation: I can use key words to answer questions.	I can engage in short conversations: I can speak in sentences, using familiar vocabulary, phrases and basic language structures.	I can engage in longer conversations: I can speak in sentences, using a range of vocabulary, phrases and basic language structures on familiar topics.	I can engage in longer conversations: I can speak in sentences, using a range of vocabulary, phrases and language structures across different topics.
Speaking 2	I can recognise the different phonic patterns.	I have an understanding of French phonics and I can recognise sound patterns and silent letters.	I can work out the pronunciation of new words and add expression to my speaking.	I can work out the pronunciation of new words and I can recognise exceptions to the rules. I can add expression to my speaking.
Listening 1	I can understand a few familiar spoken words and phrases, delivered slowly and clearly. I need sentences to be repeated to understand.	I can understand a range of familiar spoken phrases, delivered slowly and clearly with pauses between each question. I may need these to be repeated.	I can understand the main points from a short, spoken passage made up of familiar language, delivered slowly, clearly and continuously.	I can understand the main points and some of the detail from a spoken passage made up of familiar and unfamiliar language.
Reading 1	I can recognise and read out a few familiar words and phrases.	I can understand the main points from a short, written text in clear printed script.	I can understand the main points and some of the detail from short written texts in familiar contexts.	I can understand the main points and some of the detail from short written texts in familiar and unfamiliar contexts.
Comprehension Skills 1	I can guess the meaning of words similar to English. (cognates)	I can guess the meaning of cognates and near-cognates.	I can use the context to work out the meaning of unfamiliar words.	I can work out greater details using inference skills.

Geography

	Working Towards	Working At	Exceeding	Exceptional
Geography 1	I can identify some continents.	I can identify the continents, oceans and lines of latitude.	I know the continents, oceans, and understand latitude and longitude.	I also know where latitude and longitude are measured from (Equator and Greenwich meridian) and know how habitats change with latitude.
Geography 2	I know some countries in Europe and some continents and oceans.	I know many of the countries in central and western Europe. I know the continents and oceans.	I know most of the countries in central and western Europe. I know the continents and oceans. I understand what latitude and longitude is.	I know a wide range of countries both in Europe and other continents.
Geography 3	I know some common map symbols and directions.	I can use a range of map skills to read an OS map.	I can confidently use 4 figure grid references and know how to find a 6 figure grid reference.	I can also interpret height and the shape of the land when using an OS map.
Geography 4	With help I can write simple descriptions of places	I can describe what places are like using my own observations of photos	I can describe what places are like in detail using a range of literacy skills. I use my own observations of photos and maps	I can read and understand texts intended for older pupils.
Geograph y 5	With help, I can communicate my ideas.	I can communicate my ideas clearly using my literacy skills.	I consistently use the non-negotiables in my written work.	I write fluently using interesting vocabulary and geographical key words.
Geography 6	I can draw a simple bar chart and can interpret a graph with help.	I can interpret data to draw a line and bar chart	I can use data to create bar graphs and can interpret them. I can begin to draw conclusions from what they tell me.	I can use data to create a range of graphs. I can draw conclusions from the data.
Geography 7	I can identify some effects to environmental problems.	I can identify cause and effects of environmental problems	I can identify solutions to environmental problems.	I can create my own solutions to environmental solutions.
Geography 8	I can identify some environmental problems	I can show how people affect the environment using a balanced argument.	I can see how some things that affect the environment can have benefits as well as creating problems.	I can give my own point of view on environmental issues and can see both sides of an argument but can reach a conclusion.
Geograph y 9	I can identify how people affect the environment.	I can identify problems and benefits of the way people affect the environment.	I can assess benefits and problems to reach a conclusion.	I can see how I have a role in how people affect the environment
Geography 10	I can identify some sources of fresh water.	I can identify where fresh water comes from and the role played by reservoirs in this.	I can understand where fresh water comes from in the UK.	I understand how more complex sources of fresh water work e.g. aquifers.

History

	Working Towards	Working At	Exceeding	Exceptional
Cause and Consequence	I have started to understand why people in the past acted as they did.	I have begun to recognise consequences of main events and changes.	I can describe the characteristics of past societies and time periods. I can use them to recognise some causes and consequences of main events and changes.	I can recognise, describe and suggest some of the links between causes and the links between consequences.
Change and Continuity	I have started to recognise major events and people in the past.	I can recognise that the past can be divided into periods where some things change and some things stay the same.	I can describe the characteristics of past societies and periods. I can use them to identify changes and things that stay the same within and across different time periods.	I can recognise and describe changes and themes within and across different time periods.
Chronology	I have started to recognise that some events happened at different times.	I can recognise that some events happened and people existed at different times.	I can describe some main events, people and time periods in the correct time order.	I can recognise and describe events, people and some features of past societies in the correct time order.
Interpretation	I can use simple historical sources to answer simple questions about the past.	I can identify some of the different ways that the past has been interpreted.	I can identify and describe the different ways in which the past has been interpreted.	I can suggest reasons why the past has been interpreted differently.
Similarity and Difference	I have started to recognise that there are similarities and differences between and within different periods of history.	I can recognise that the past can be divided into periods which have similarities and differences and similarities and differences within them.	I can describe the characteristics of past societies and time periods. I can use them to identify similarities and differences across and within different time periods.	I can recognise and describe similarities and differences between and within different time periods.
Significance	I know that some events and individuals are important.	I know why some events and individuals are very important.	I understand why some events or individuals are more important than others.	I have begun to recognise why some events or individuals might be judged as more historically significant than others.
Using Evidence	I can identify what a historical source is telling me about the past.	I can describe what a historical source is telling me about the past.	I can interpret what a historical source is telling me about the past.	I have begun to recognise bias in a historical source.
Vocabulary	I can use a few historical words in a sentence.	I can use some historical words in a sentence.	I know what some of the key historical vocabulary means (Pixl).	I know what key historical vocabulary means (Pixl).

Mathematics

	Working Towards	Working At	Exceeding	Exceptional
Number 1	I can solve some calculations using formal written methods of addition and subtraction.	I can use formal written methods for addition and subtraction of whole numbers.	I can use formal written methods to add and subtract decimals.	I can solve problems involving formal written methods of addition and subtraction with whole numbers and decimals.
Number 2	I can use a formal written division method to divide numbers up to four digits by a single digit number.	I can use a formal written division method to divide numbers up to four digits by a two-digit number.	I can use a formal written division method to divide any size whole numbers.	I can solve reasoning problems using a formal written division method to divide any size whole numbers.
Geometry 1	I can use coordinates in the first quadrant.	I can use coordinates in all 4 quadrants.	I can find the missing coordinate in coordinate shape problems.	I can solve problems using the Cartesian coordinate system.
Number 3	I can simplify fractions by halving the numerator and denominator if they are both even.	I can write a fraction in its lowest terms by cancelling common factors.	I can write a fraction in its lowest terms by finding the highest common factor.	I can solve fraction problems and know when to simplify the answers.
Number 4	I can add and subtract fractions with the same denominator.	I can add and subtract fractions and mixed numbers with different denominators.	I can solve reasoning problems involving addition and subtraction of fractions and mixed numbers with different denominators.	I can solve more complex reasoning problems involving addition and subtraction of fractions and mixed numbers with different denominators.
Number 5	I can find a fraction of an amount.	I can multiply pairs of fractions in simple cases.	I can multiply pairs of mixed numbers confidently.	I can solve multistep problems by multiplying fractions and mixed numbers.
Number 6	I can multiply and divide whole numbers by 10, 100, 1000.	I can multiply and divide numbers with up to 3 decimal places by 10, 100, 1000.	I can solve problems involving multiplying and dividing numbers with up to 3 decimal places by 10, 100, 1000.	I can solve advanced problems involving multiplying and dividing numbers with up to 3 decimal places by 10, 100, 1000.
Number 7	I can find 10% of a quantity and use it to find, for example, 20% and 5%.	I can find percentages of quantities.	I can find percentages of quantities and understand their relationship to fractions and decimals.	I can use the relationships between fractions, decimals and percentages to solve percentage problems.

Measurement 1	I can remember that there are 100cm in 1m and 100g in 1kg etc.	I can convert between adjacent units of metric measure e.g. cm to m, kg to g etc	I can convert between non-adjacent units of metric measure e.g. mm to m, mg to kg etc	I can convert between units of volume e.g. mm ³ to cm ³ .
Measurement 2	I can calculate the area of a rectangle by counting cubes or using a given formula.	I can calculate the area and perimeter of rectangles, triangles and parallelograms.	I can calculate the area and perimeter of compound rectilinear shapes.	I can use the area of rectangles and triangles to find the area of a trapezium.
Measurement 3	I can count cubes to find the volume of cubes and cuboids.	I can calculate the volume of cubes and cuboids.	I can find missing values when calculating with volume.	I can solve compound volume problems.
Geometry 2	I can recognise different types of angles and begin to solve simple angle calculations.	I can solve missing angle problems involving triangles, quadrilaterals, angles at a point and angles on a straight line.	I can use a combination of angle facts to calculate missing angles.	I can use a combination of angle facts to calculate missing angles in multistep problems.
Statistics 1	I can find the average of a set of discrete data using the mode.	I can calculate and interpret the mean as an average of a set of discrete data.	I can find missing values in a data set when given the mean.	I can confidently calculate the mean, median and mode of a discrete data set.
Ratio and Proportion 1	I can express pictorial quantities in a ratio.	I can use simple ratios to compare quantities.	I can use ratio to solve problems.	I can solve increasingly more difficult ratio problems.
Algebra 1	I can follow a simple formula using number machines.	I can use simple formulae expressed in words.	I can use two-step formulae expressed in words.	I can derive and explain increasingly more complex formulae involving algebraic notation.

Music

Singing 1	I can identify two aspects of correct singing posture. I can sing as part of a group with clear diction and projection.	I can identify one feature of an effective warm-up. I can sing as part of a group with overall good pitching, following a conductor.	I can lead a vocal warm-up with a small group. I can sing as part of a group with dynamics and phrasing control.	I can create my own effective short vocal warm-up to use before singing. I can sing as part of a group in a song with parts, with only one or two notes out of tune.
Listening 1	I can identify simple musical differences (high/low, fast/slow) from a recorded or live performance.	I can identify differences within a range of musical elements (including duration, repetition, texture).	I can name orchestral instruments and comment on the playing technique used.	I can answer questions about the musical context of music heard.
Performing and Composing 1 - Notation theory	I can identify semibreves, minims, crotchets, quavers, semiquavers and their rests in musical notation.	I can identify pitch notes on a treble clef staff.	I can identify pitch notes on ledger lines above and below the staff.	I can confidently identify pitch note names and durations in music.
Performing and Composing 2 - Performing	I can read and play from simple rhythmic notation.	I can read and play from staff notation including quavers, semiquavers and pitch when given.	I can read and play step-wise pitch notation in the treble clef.	I can read and play rhythm at sight.
Performing and Composing 3 - Group performance	I can perform within a group, keeping together.	I can perform a 4-bar pattern as a group, making relevant dynamic changes.	I can perform a 4-bar pattern as a group, making relevant tempo changes.	I can perform in a group performance in a piece with several parts.
Performing and Composing 4 - Solo performance	I can perform rhythmically repeating patterns and/or note names.	I can perform a simple 4-bar melody with accuracy of pitch and instrumental technique.	I can perform a simple 4-bar melody in time.	I can perform a melody with simple bassline together.
Performing and Composing 5 - Pitch composition	I can compose a 4-bar melody using repetition.	I can compose a 4-bar 'question' and 'answer' melody, using the pentatonic scale.	I can compose a 4-bar melody, with balanced phrases, in C major or A minor.	I can compose beyond 4-bars, with a sense of shape.
Performing and Composing 6 - Rhythm composition	I can compose a 4-bar rhythm that includes notes and rests.	I can compose a 4-bar pattern with rhythmical repetition.	I can include rhythmic variety in my composition.	I can add a repeating accompaniment to my composition.
Performing and Composing 7 - Melodic improvisation	I can improvise using repetition.	I can improvise from a given 'question' to develop a suitable 'answer'.	I can improvise my own 2-bar melody creating a sense of shape.	I can improvise a satisfying 2-bar melody with rhythmical interest and a sense of shape.

Relationships & Sex Education	I understand that puberty will lead to changes in the body and how I can manage some of these changes.	I can describe how bodies change during puberty and can explain how babies are conceived and born.	I can explain the physical and emotional changes that occur during puberty and suggest ways to manage puberty. I can explain conception, pregnancy and birth.	I can confidently explain the physical and emotional changes that take place during puberty and can describe strategies that young people can use to promote their wellbeing during puberty. I can confidently explain conception, pregnancy and birth.
Discussion skills	I can use a vocabulary of simple words and phrases. I often need help or prompting when making exchanges with others. I can listen in group discussions but do not contribute to any group discussions yet, preferring to speak one to one.	I can mostly use appropriate language when discussing with others and have control of grammatical forms. I am starting to engage in group discussions contributing from time to time. I sometimes ask questions when someone else is discussing	I am beginning to invite others to participate in discussions. I can summarise the main points of a discussion well. I often ask questions when others are discussing.	I have a consistently positive attitude during discussions, whether in small group or larger group/whole class discussion. I am beginning to challenge the views of others in discussions. When I give my ideas, they are presented in a logical order.
Health & Wellbeing	I can provide simple ideas to help my physical and emotional wellbeing and understand that I need to respond quickly and safely in an emergency.	I can describe ways to promote my physical and emotional health and wellbeing, including how to get help and keep safe in an emergency.	I can confidently explain how I can promote my physical and emotional health and wellbeing and can describe ways to promote self-esteem. I know how to offer basic help in an emergency and how to keep safe.	I can demonstrate a comprehensive range of ways to promote my physical and emotional health and wellbeing and can describe how this links to self-esteem. I can describe ways to help in an emergency and know why it is important to keep myself safe.
Listening skills	I can mostly listen to others for a short time and keep my focus. I can follow some verbal instructions but I may need to be reminded of the instructions before I can complete them fully. I am beginning to ask questions if I don't understand.	I can listen to others without interrupting. I can follow most verbal instructions at the time of asking and can listen without interrupting others. I can ask questions if I don't understand.	I can show I am actively listening by giving my full attention to the speaker. I use eye contact and body language; I ask questions when I don't understand. I can listen to others and can tell someone else what it was about.	I can show I am actively listening and am able to do this for a longer period of time whilst remaining focussed. I question to deepen my understanding and to evaluate what is being said.
Relationships & Sex Education	I can name some features of a positive friendship. I can provide simple ways of keeping safe online and know that I need to report content or contact which may be harmful.	I can explain what makes a healthy, positive friendship. and suggest ways to avoid arguments and other friendship issues. I can describe how online communication is different to face to face communication, including how people might behave online and I can suggest ways to keep safe.	I can describe the features of healthy, positive friendships and suggests ways to avoid arguments and other friendship issues. I can explain ways to benefit from positive online behaviours; I can assess and manage online risks and am starting to evaluate digital media sources.	I can confidently discuss ways to promote positive, healthy friendships and suggest ways to negotiate within friendships. I can confidently assess different types of online behaviour and can evaluate digital media sources confidently.
Careers/Living in the wider world	I am beginning to understand that my strengths that might help me find a job in the future.	I can identify some skills which might help me choose a job and some of the different pathways into a range of different jobs.	I can explain factors which might limit or support people's career choices, including stereotypes related to different jobs.	I can confidently link skills, strengths and achievements with career choices and am ambitious for my future.

Religious Education

	Working Towards	Working At	Exceeding	Exceptional
RE 1	I can identify the six major religions and key aspects linked to them – symbols, holy books and places of worship.	I can show an understanding of how religion can shape peoples' lives.	I can consider the challenges of belonging to a religion.	I can begin to consider how religion can be challenging in a diverse society.
RE 2	I can use the correct vocabulary to describe religious actions.	I can show an understanding of the variety of religious experiences.	I can make subtle and complex links between religious material and my own ideas.	I can make links between stories from a variety of religions.
RE 3	I can describe key religious experiences or rituals.	I can begin to understand the views and opinions of others.	I can begin to explain how people approach religious experiences in various ways.	I can apply learning from one religious concept to new concepts with growing awareness.
RE 4	I can make links between religious experiences and feelings.	I can read and interpret key passages within a text. (e.g. The Bible)	I can explain different interpretations of key texts. (e.g. Bible stories)	I can apply my awareness of fact and belief to real-life questions.
RE 5	I can ask relevant questions about religious life or experiences.	I can select similarities and differences between religions/beliefs in terms of moral issues.	I can interpret sources of information when exploring moral issues around religion.	I can begin to consider the idea of orthodox/reform experiences of religion.
RE 6	I can begin to consider philosophical questions (moral/ultimate)	I can consider how people might be influenced to answer philosophical questions.	I can start to explain how people approach philosophical questions based on religion.	I can link religious experience with philosophical questions.
RE 7	I can listen to the views and opinions of others sensitively.	I can begin to understand the diversity within religions.	I can consider both sides of an argument when approaching 'big questions'.	I can explore and write from various perspectives when answering 'big questions'.
RE 8	I can follow instruction to locate key passages in religious texts.	I can build an expanding religious vocabulary based on the topics studied.	I can use my continually expanding vocabulary in oral and written work.	I can apply higher level vocabulary to written tasks.
RE 9	I can create thoughtful artwork that applies my interpretation of an idea such as 'where is God?'	I can express my view of a statement (e.g. where is God?) in an artistic way with description of my choices.	I can express my view of a statement (e.g. Where is God?) in an artistic way with explanation of my reasoning behind my design.	I can begin to explain why there are similarities between religions.
RE 10	I can identify links between aspects of religions.	I can listen to and share my own thoughts and opinions in class discussions.	I can listen to, share and challenge the thoughts and opinions in class discussions.	I can interpret a range of sources of information (such as newspaper articles) when exploring moral issues around religion.

Science

	Working Towards	Working At	Exceeding	Exceptional
Science 1	I can name the main parts of the body, circuits etc.	I can name some body parts that make up body systems (e.g. blood vessels), parts of a circuit etc.	I can name many body parts that make up body systems (e.g. arteries, veins, ventricles, atria), parts of a circuit (e.g. ammeter) etc.	I can name various body parts (e.g. capillaries, valves), parts of a circuit (e.g. voltmeter, resistor) beyond the ks2
Science 2	I can write simple descriptions.	I can write descriptions.	I can write detailed descriptions.	I can describe more complex processes, such as respiration.
Science 3	I can identify/list facts.	I can identify the impact one factor has on another.	I can describe how one factor affects another.	I can compare and contrast factors using support e.g. a Venn diagram.
Science 4	I can list information.	I can state one reason why something happens.	I can briefly explain information.	I can explain information using scientific knowledge from class.
Science 5	I can complete graphs (when axis and scales are provided for me).	I can draw graphs with support, including how to decide upon the scale and labelling the axes.	I can draw graphs – with some support labelling the axes.	I can draw graphs independently without the need for support.
Science 6	I can make measurements using various equipment with some support.	I can make measurements using various equipment without support.	I can select appropriate techniques, apparatus and materials during investigations.	I can use test results to develop additional investigations and explain my decisions.
Science 7	I can write a basic conclusion with support.	I can use test result to write a conclusion that describes the pattern shown by the results.	I can write a conclusion which uses the results to support findings.	I can draw conclusions using simple scientific evidence to explain the findings.
Science 8	I can stay safe during experiments, with prompting.	I can identify how to stay safe during experiments.	I can describe some ways to stay safe during experiments.	I can describe many ways to stay safe and why the safety rule is important.
Science 9	I know that things need to be kept the same for a 'fair test'.	I know that there are independent, dependent and control variables. I can identify some control variables that need to be kept the same for a 'fair test'.	I can identify independent, dependent and control variables, without support.	I can describe the different variables and give simple reasons for keeping control variables the same.
Science 10	I can make a basic prediction about what will happen when completing an investigation.	I can write a prediction to describe what will happen during an investigation.	I can describe the reason for making a prediction using everyday knowledge.	I can briefly explain the reason for making a prediction using scientific knowledge.

Year 6 Curriculum Related Expectations

Science 11	I can identify what data shows.	I can briefly describe what data shows.	I can describe patterns shown by data in some detail.	I can briefly explain what the pattern in data means.
Science 12	I can use some key words for the topic I am studying.	I can use many key words for the topic I am studying.	I can use all the key words for the topic I am studying and use them consistently in my work.	I can use the key words to find information relating to the topic from secondary sources.
Science 13	I can present results on a table.	I can present results on a table, including repeats.	I can present results on a table, record repeats and calculate a mean.	I can record results on a table, record repeats and starting to identify and discard anomalous results prior to calculating a mean.
Science 14	I can draw non-scientific/simple scientific diagrams with support e.g. ray diagrams with errors.	I can draw simple scientific diagrams.	I can draw and label scientific diagrams accurately.	I can draw more complex fully labelled diagrams e.g. to show how light is reflected off a plane mirror and measure the angle of incidence and the reflection from the normal line.
Science 15	I can write some simple steps to describe how to complete an investigation (with support).	I can write a simple method to describe how to complete an investigation.	I can write a method that includes quantities to test predictions.	I can write a method that describes the dependent variable to be measured.
