About the project

Arts , crafts and design and modern technologies in our European school gardens: taking the learning and our inspiration from the outdoors and the nature all around us.

Pupils and teachers will leave the classroom to look at the state of our environment and record it through different artistic mediums: using words, painting, dance, music, photography , design and modern technologies to express their impressions of the natural world.

This project will support the third year of our Erasmus+ project: "Let Us Grow Our Own Green Future".
